INTRODUCTION

Communication with each other is a typical way for living people to socialize and the main purpose of communication is to convey information to others (Maru, et al., 2022). One of the methods used to convey messages through communication is using symbols. Symbols are features or indicators that carry meaning and can represent any idea or concept without being limited by context. Modern communication relies on various platforms due to the rapid development of technology, which has also influenced the proliferation of various forms of popular culture. Music itself has long been recognized as a form of artistic expression, even since we were babies, we have been exposed to music through lullabies from our mothers. As an example of how music can be used as a communication tool, we can consider the practice of singing lullabies to children before bedtime. Through music, parents can express affection and help children to relax and sleep peacefully.

Ebiet G Ade, an Indonesian musician, has created songs that address many aspects of everyday life. One of his most famous songs, Titip Rindu Untuk Ayah, reflects the importance of family and expresses the frustration of trying to repay the sacrifices of his parents. The song Titip Rindu Untuk Ayah, written by Ebiet G Ade in 1990, conveys a strong message about a father’s responsibility as the breadwinner of the family, and this has led to the author’s curiosity to analyze the music of the song.

The study of semiotics or semiology, as studied by Barthes, focuses on understanding how people give meaning to objects through signs. Signs can be symbols that indicate things, and semiotics addresses how these signs form a system of indicators. Barthes’ theory of denotation and connotation, as two separate levels of meaning, helps us understand how signs have deeper meanings that are influenced by the user’s emotions and cultural norms. Myths, according to Barthes, are culturally significant narratives that shape the way we understand the world around us. In this context, symbols have a second-level sense of myth that shapes cultural perspectives. The relationship between symbol and reference gives meaning to the signs. Reference refers to what the sign refers to, while connotation refers to the subjective element of choosing what is an important part of the message.

Solitude is the state of being alone but not lonely. In solitude, one is detached from ties with other people and material and abstract things such as facts and opinions. The term “text” refers to the written documentation of previous oral events, such as song lyrics which are part of the linguistic component of the music genre. A song is a form of creativity from a musician who uses musical elements such as rhythm, melody, harmony, form and structure to convey ideas and emotions to an audience. Music itself is a regular part of the human experience that is present in our daily lives and accompanies us wherever we go.

RESEARCH METHOD

This study is designed within the framework of a qualitative approach. The qualitative approach in research is one of the research methods that focus on an in-depth understanding of the phenomenon being studied. Qualitative approaches allow researchers to explore the perspectives of research participants, understand complex social contexts, and explore diverse phenomena in depth. The song lyric of Ebiet G. Ade’s Titip Rindu Buat Ayah is the primary data source in this study. The primary data is supported by the use of secondary data such as academic journals, books, and various credible sources from the internet. The data is collected by using the literature review. The data is analyzed using Barthes’ semiotic theory to show the meaning of longing in the song lyric. The data is analyzed from the perspectives of denotative and connotative meanings.

FINDINGS AND DISCUSSION

Since meaning is the interpretation of words, it is impossible to separate the two concepts. Connotative meaning is attached to words that not only represent ideas, views and thoughts, but also have an emotional charge. It has various hidden meanings and values, such as song lyrics. The connotation of a word is its metaphorical or accompanying meaning, such as the ideals and attitudes of society at the time it was first used. Titip Rindu Buat Ayah” has connotative connotations because of this. Good and evil actions are the basis for a set of principles known as moral values.

Denotative Meaning

According to Barthes, dictionaries provide the best explanation of how one can learn the denotative, or literal, meaning of a word. For this reason, the Kamus Besar Bahasa Indonesia (KBBI) was consulted to ascertain the connotations of the terms used in the song Titip Rindu Buat Ayah. Since the words in the song lyrics are part of the Indonesian lexicon, it is possible to get an explanation of the meaning of a term by consulting the KBBI. There are a number of words, phrases, and sentences in Titip Rindu Buat Ayah that require an understanding of their connotations in order to fully appreciate the song. In the KBBI, the term jet means “pitch black” in its denotative sense. Black is a general term for the color black. Red is a base hue noun that is almost the same color as blood.

Connotation Meaning
Connotation meaning, in contrast to denotation meaning, is cultural or emotional and therefore subjective. The implication of the song title, “Titip Rindu Buat Ayah,” comes from analyzing the lines that make up the lyrics.

The following is an example of the lyrical meaning found in the initial verses of the third and fourth lines: “Benturan dan hempasan terpahat di keningmu” (Bumps and crashes chiseled into your forehead). The use of the words “benturan” (bump) and “hempasan” (blow) means the suffering of life. The phrase “terpahat di keningmu” (chiseled on your forehead) is not a chisel on the forehead, but a description of the consequences of the suffering he experienced. The words “Benturan dan hempasan” (bump and blow) and the phrase “terpahat di keningmu” (chiseled on your forehead) are classified as metaphors because the words and phrases express something as the same or equivalent as something else.

Mythical Meanings

After conducting a comprehensive analysis of the lyrics of Ebiet G Ade’s Titip Rindu Buat Ayah, we found that the song’s connotations are centered on myth. The legendary meaning of the song emerges from a careful reading of the lyrics, which expresses a child’s desire for parental sacrifice in meeting the family’s living needs despite the constant burden of life’s many problems. The following table presents the results of the analysis of the overall meaning in the lyrical content.

(Although your breath is sometimes labored Carrying an increasingly heavy burden You still hold on)
Connotative: “Memikul Beban (carrying burden)” means the problems that many face.

Mythical: That the struggle of a father even though his breath always prevents him from working hard but he remains steadfast to live it.

Meaning

Denotative: The spirit is never lost in living this life.
Connotative: The phrase “langkahmu kadang gemetar (your steps sometimes shaky)” means that your feet are not strong enough to do the work, so they tremble. The phrase “langkahmu kadang gemetar (your steps sometimes shaky)” is a metaphor.

Mythical: The burning spirit of the father to keep faithfully trying to go through the suffering even though he is no longer strong enough to take steps.

Lyric: Ayah dalam hening sepi kurindu untuk menuai padi milik kita
Tapi kerinduan tinggal hanya kerinduan
Anakmu sekarang banyak menangung beban

(Father in the lonely silence I longed to reap our grain
But longing remains only longing
Your son now bears many burdens)

Meaning

Denotative: Dad is still missed in his lonely state.
Connotative: The phrase “padi milik kita (our paddy)” is not a rice plant that is ready for harvest, but “padi milik kita (our paddy)” is the togetherness and longing that arises when we meet. The phrase “padi milik kita (our paddy)” is classified as a metaphor because it describes an object that is related to another object.

Mythical: But that longing is only the longing of all. Fathers who have a lot of experience in life share with their children. So that the child when left by his father is not surprised in facing the test of his life.
